By the President. Q. GRESMAN, Secretary of State. The proclamation was communicated to Gen. Miles by Secretary Lamont, united press dispatch from Washington containing the president's proclamation, and the additional instructions of Secretary Lamont, of the war department. After perusing the manuscript carefully, he said:

I do not understand the necessity for this action. I have been around Chicago in every part of it for thirteen hours. I find everything quiet. There has been no mob, no conflict with the local authorities, and no disturbance generally to call for special comment. What trouble has occurred to-day seems to have been over the border line in Indiana. I regard the conditions prevailing to-day as a decided improvement upon those of the just week. At the same time. I am not prepared to comment upon or criticise the president's proclamation, and i prefer to looking into the matter.
